- APPLE has integrated IC Chips on some Original parts. Aftermarket and OEM parts will give a Pop-Up Message in most cases.
- If you have not claimed your device and paid all charges due within thirty (30) days after being notified by The Microsoldering Shop that your device has been repaired, The Microsoldering Shop will consider your device abandoned. The Microsoldering Shop Repair may dispose of your device at its discretion.
Initials: _____
- The Microsoldering Shop provides each customer that receives a repair with a limited lifetime warranty on the part (The Microsoldering Shop does not actually Warranty the part... the distributor does. The Microsoldering Shop will transfer this warranty onto the customer ONLY when the Distributor approves the Warranty) and labor. The lifetime part and labor warranty only cover repairs performed by The Microsoldering Shop. Also, the lifetime warranty does not extend to customer negligence or problems caused other than what was repaired prior. Furthermore, each device and repair are tested to the fullest before returning the repaired or unrepaired device to the customer. Warranties will only be acknowledged if a receipt is provided and only if all circumstances are met, which is determined by technician and The Microsoldering Shop. The warranty is not transferrable to other customers or devices. I acknowledge that if I bring in my own part, The Microsoldering Shop does not express or imply the lifetime warranty.
Initials: _____
- Services rendered by The Microsoldering Shop may void the manufacturer or other warranties on the device. The Microsoldering Shop does not assume any liability if the manufacturer's warranty is void. By signing below, you agree not to take any legal action in any forum against The Microsoldering Shop and your signature shall act as a full and complete release and as an affirmative Covenant not to sue.
Initials: _____
- We recommend that you back up all information stored on the device being repaired for safekeeping. The Microsoldering Shop is not responsible for data loss which may occur because of the device being repaired.
- Initials: _____
- The Microsoldering Shops No Fix / No Fee Policy only applies to devices that are deemed "Repairable". If your device has damage that is not repairable, The Microsoldering Shop charges a Diagnostic fee (Bench fee) of $40. This fee is included in "ALL" repairs unless technician deems it repairable but cannot repair the device due to experience (It can be repaired but we can't do it) ...then the fee is waived.
- Initials: _____
- I _____ have tested my device and The Microsoldering Shop has repaired my device to my satisfaction. Or... I have mailed in my device and received a video of my device repaired and am satisfied with the repair.
